
2022 ALASKA TRIBAL COURT DIRECTORY

Prepared by Alaska Legal Services Corporation

Foreword & Acknowledgements

In 2012, due to the support and efforts of many people and organizations, Alaska Legal Services Corporation (ALSC) released the first Alaska Tribal Court Directory. The original directory was compiled from information shared by 90 Alaska Tribes through ALSC's 2011 tribal court survey, supplemented by additional information from Carol Brown and April January of the Association of Village Council Presidents and Lisa Jaeger of Tanana Chiefs Conference. The tribal court survey was made possible by the support and cooperation of Gloria Gorman from the Bureau of Indian Affairs and Diane Payne of the Justice for Native Children Projects.

We updated the directory in 2018, including information from 102 Alaska Tribes, which was gathered through a new survey issued in partnership with the Alaska Network on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault (ANDVSA). Additional information was gathered by the Association of Village Council Presidents.

For the first time, the 2022 version includes information on all 229 Tribes in Alaska. Information was gathered in collaboration with incredible efforts by Richard Garcia, Kelsey Potdevin, and Jeffrey Egoak at the Alaska Native Justice Center, and Denise Nerby and Andrea Wuya at the Association of Village Council Presidents.

This Directory is not a definitive statement on the number of tribal courts operating in Alaska. Where the Directory does not include information for a Tribe, the fault is ours for failing to make contact with the Tribe to collect that information. A Tribe may be operating a court and hearing cases whether or not that information is in this Directory, and anyone wishing to use a tribal court should contact the Tribe for the most up-to-date information. If you have any corrections or additions, please call ALSC's main office at (907) 272-9431.

We thank the citizens of the Tribes who responded to our requests, especially the Judges, Administrators and Court Clerks, for their dedication to their children, families, and communities.

The Alaska Native Justice Center and the Association of Village Council Presidents were essential to completing the update. We also thank the Bureau of Justice Assistance for supporting our efforts, and to all of the ALSC staff, past and present, who contributed to making this directory possible.

*Note: The Directory is subject to change as courts develop. Go to Alaskatribes.org for the most updated version.
